Dear parishioners,

In order to enhance the privacy of the Reconciliation rooms, sound insulation is being installed around the doorways. This has already happened in the room on the west side. Because the door now fits more tightly, you will have to use more force in order to open and shut it. Speaking of Reconciliation, please join us tomorrow March 19 for a bilingual Penance service here at 7:00 pm. If you can't make it look in the bulletin for more dates and times.

A look into Lent

Week 5 - It's the culture

A president of recent history was elected on the slogan "It's the economy, stupid!" I think had John Paul II run for office his slogan might have been "It's the culture, stupid!" He certainly would have said it more nicely, but the gist would have been the same; pay attention to what really matters: the culture.

In the last part of the 20th Century while other thinkers and activists were busy looking to political, economic, and legal structures to improve the human condition, John Paul II made the brilliant observation that culture, more than anything else, contributed to the misery or prosperity of a people.

He wrote in Centesimus Annus, "It is not possible to understand man on the basis of economics alone, nor to define him simply on the basis of class membership. Man is understood in a more complete way when he is situated within the sphere of culture through his language, history, and the position he takes towards the fundamental events of life, such as birth, love, work and death. At the heart of every culture lies the attitude man takes to the greatest mystery: the mystery of God. Different cultures are basically different ways of facing the question of the meaning of personal existence."

Like it or not, culture affects us and how we relate to God. Culture can teach us things about God but it can also obscure God's teachings. As John Paul said, "All human activity takes place within a culture and interacts with culture"

It was this profound observation that led him to coin the phrases: "the culture of life" and "the culture of death." In doing this he was not just talking about abortion or the death penalty, but giving Catholics a powerful tool by which to examine our lives and see the causes of many social maladies.

How is your culture affecting you? Is the culture at your work influencing you to ignore your vocation as a spouse and parent? Is the culture of your neighborhood or country influencing you to see outsiders as not quite children of God? Is the entertainment culture leading you to see the opposite sex as objects instead of persons?

Conversely, how are you affecting your culture? Does the gospel live in the way you treat your spouse and children? How do you talk with or about your co-workers? Do you speak out against injustice or racism? Do you have mercy and compassion for the poor among us? What is it about you that signals to another that you are a follower of Christ? As St. Francis of Assisi once said, "Preach the Gospel at all times. If necessary, use words."

Prayers are requested for the repose of the soul of parishioner Manuel Reyes.

Marriage Minute

Have you ever pleaded with God to "Create in me a clean heart." What does that look like in our marriages? Consider something else we clean often: the kitchen.

- A clean kitchen isn't cluttered. A clean heart prioritizes marriage over the busyness of life.
- We wipe up spills quickly before they stick to our countertops. We are quick to ask for and grant forgiveness with our spouse.
- Keeping a kitchen clean takes daily routines and periodic deep scrubbing. Our marriages need daily routines and an annual retreat or workshop.
- A clean kitchen is the heart of the home, a welcoming place for family to gather. Our marriages should be the same warm place to show God's love!

Stewardship Reflection March 18, 2018

"I will be their God and they shall be my people." - Jeremiah 31:33

What does it mean to be God's people? It means we recognize that everything we have and everything we are belongs to God. We aren't "owners" of anything, we are merely "stewards" of the gifts God has given us. It means we are willing to use our gifts and our lives to care for our neighbors and the world, just as God cares for us.

Catechism Corner

What does the word "Incarnation" mean?

The Church calls the mystery of the wonderful union of the divine and human natures in the one divine Person of the Word the "Incarnation". To bring about our salvation the Son of God was made "flesh" (John 1:14) and became truly man. Faith in the Incarnation is a distinctive sign of the Christian faith.
