Christ became obedient to the point of death,
even death on a cross.
Because of this, God greatly exalted him and bestowed on him the name which is above every name.

Philippians 2:8-9

Dear parishioners,

We are now entering Holy Week. These special days immerse us more deeply into the mystery of Jesus' death and resurrection. I encourage you to attend the services which mark these days. We devote much care and attention to them, to make them meaningful for all.

A look into Lent

Palm Sunday, Segregated but not separate

Once, not so long ago, rich and poor worshipped together in the same parish. However, with the advent of automobiles and suburbs, our parishes have become economically segregated. Those who had more made the exodus out of the urban corps and into the suburbs--for more land, better schools and bigger homes...and the poor remained.

Now for many of us, when Jesus talks about the poor, it is hard to think of someone we actually know. Stereotypes fill the void, and tempt us to think they have brought it on themselves through addiction or bad choices. We snark on Facebook about Vision card moms ahead of us at the grocery, who seem to eat better than we do. If we are not careful we can take Jesus' admonition "For you always have the poor with you, but you will not always have me" (Mathew 26:11) as a way out. We excuse ourselves from mercy, and so segregate our charity.

Saint Faustina Kowalska wrote a diary of her encounters with Jesus. Jesus tells her quite plainly, that while there may be a Feast of Mercy (we know now this as Divine Mercy Sunday) "You are to show mercy to our neighbors always and everywhere. You must not shrink from this or try to absolve yourself from it." (Diary 1109)

We want to be excused from loving people who are other. We want a pass because somehow at this time, at this moment, showing mercy shouldn't apply to us. We want to believe we are entitled to opt out for any number of reasons: we're busy, we're broke, we're tired, we're wounded, and the reasons go on and on.

But Pope Francis' Lenten message challenges us to get out of ourselves and, "...distrust a charity that costs nothing and does not hurt."

As we arrive again at Palm Sunday, it is not too late for charity and alms even as we wave our branches in welcome. While Lent focuses our attentions on prayer, fasting and almsgiving, it doesn't mean these are the only times we practice such attention to charity. As we come close to the cross on Good Friday, surely we are struck at how Jesus, himself, held nothing of himself back from love of us. And when we encounter the resurrected Christ, that God-Man on whom our very Faith rests, we must practice that joy. We must love as He loves. We must not exclude ourselves from giving Christ's love by segregating ourselves from those in most need of our charity. It may be a bit of a drive but it's worth the trip.

Marriage Minute

"Holy Week for Marriage"

Praise, temptation to despair, indignant questioning from one who does not understand his mission, rejection, and eventually, death. While these descriptions apply to our Lord's experience during Holy Week, they also apply to the lived experience of married couples. St. John Paul II said, "Married couples are a permanent reminder to the Church of what happened on the Cross." Jesus called himself the Bridegroom, and His Bride was the Church. We imitate Christ in our marriages when we:

- Accept praise from others with humility and thanksgiving to God.
- Allow grace to strengthen our hope when we are tempted to despair over financial situations or the choices our children make.
- Choose to courageously witness the beauty of marriage even though friends or extended family may not understand our vocation.
- Forgive generously when we are hurt.

Stewardship Reflection March 25, 2018

Jesus told us "whatever you do for the least of my brothers, you do for me." Every day we are presented opportunities to help someone. Every day we have the opportunity to see the face of Jesus in others and be the face of Jesus to others. Pray for the strength and courage to stand up for those in need of our help.

Catechism Corner

How does the Church set forth the Mystery of the Incarnation?

The Church confesses that Jesus Christ is true God and true man, with two natures, a divine nature and a human nature, not confused with each other but united in the Person of the Word. Therefore, in the humanity of Jesus all things - his miracles, his suffering, and his death - must be attributed to his divine Person which acts by means of his assumed human nature. "O Only-begotten Son and Word of God you who are immortal, you who deigned for our salvation to become incarnate of the holy Mother of God and ever Virgin Mary (...) You who are one of the Holy Trinity, glorified with the Father and the Holy Spirit, save us!" (Byzantine Liturgy of Saint John Chrysostom) Further reading: CCC 464-470, 479-481
